Ten new commercial allotments are about to hit the market in Keith, as Stage 2 of the Keith Industrial Estate nears completion. Tatiara District Council has developed the site, with lots ranging from 4,400 – 5,943m². This is the first major release of industrial land since the early 2000's, opening the door for new and expanded businesses.

"We are very excited to see this land become available for sale. It has been a lot of work from staff, local contractors and was made possible by a Thriving Regions Grant from the Minister for Regions, Clare Scriven." said Mayor Liz Goossens.

"There was a definite gap in the market, with very few opportunities for local businesses to grow, or for new businesses to set up in the Tatiara" she said.

Council's Director of Infrastructure & Operations, Aaron Hillier, led the delivery of the project.

"The new allotments have easy access to both the Dukes Highway and Riddoch Highway, via Stirling Road, making them a prime location to access Adelaide, Melbourne and the south towards Mount Gambier." he said.

"The land is well serviced with 3-phase power, a new road with kerb and gutter, wastewater, SA water and NBN connections, making it appealing to businesses."

Local Real Estate company SAL have been awarded the sales contract, with Sales Consultant, Mandy Harper leading the campaign. Chloe Rose from SAL will also sell Council's Ramsay Terrace residential allotments in Bordertown when they hit the market next year.

Any interested parties should contact SAL Keith on (08) 8755 1711.
